ROOTERS TO MEET EARLY FOR PARADE

Men Will Gather at the Union

1.30 P.M.

Additional Tickets on Sale at 10 A.M.

Rooters are to assemble at the Union at 1.30 p.m. this afternoon, whence they will proceed to the Stadium in marching order. This law has been decided upon so that there will be ample time to complete all final details and instructions before the start of the big game, which is scheduled to commence at half-past two o'clock sharp.

Any men who have not already obtained their tickets will be glad to learn that a last opportunity will be afforded them at ten a.m., when the cardboards will be placed on sale in the Union. None need cherish hopes of being able to gain admittance by a last minute purchase at the Stadium as all rooters' seats are reserved and all tickets to them sold only at the Union.

Everyone that has a McGill sweater should wear it, while every undergraduate booster for the Senior team who appears before the Union at the appointed hour will, of course, come bedecked in his red and white cap, which is now regarded as being as essential to good rooting as a pair of leather-lined lungs and a well sand-papery throat.

In past years the rooters' parade has been invariably one of the most prominent and spectacular features of the day; and judging from the preparations which have been made, and the effort which "Teedles" Thompson and Joe Wayne and their assistants have taken, this autumn's intercollegiate football opening should be properly and noisily and harmoniously ushered in by the rooters.

It is unthinkable that any undergraduate should willingly be absent from such a critical contest as today's; it is equally unthinkable that any undergraduate should desire better seats than have been put aside for the rooters, standing as they do in the centre of the sunny side of the field. From all of which it would seem that there is every inducement to bring a man out with the rooters, and no possible excuse for staying away—so be on hand at the Union at 1.30 p.m. and then—LET'S GO!

ADDRESS BY DR. TAIT MCKENZIE

Spoke to Physical Eds. Yesterday.

The faculty, graduates and undergraduates of the McGill School of Physical Education were afforded an exceptional pleasure yesterday by the opportunity of hearing two well known leaders in physical education.

Dr. A. S. Lamb, Director of the school, welcomed the gathering as representing the youngest portion of the McGill Reunion. He then introduced Mr. Sommers, who regretted that he had no time to discuss fully the English point of view in Physical Education. He spoke of the main objective—health. England has been for many years a battle ground of systems of which the Swedish, based on psychological laws, is perhaps the best, although it does not give sufficient opportunity for the development of character. The relation between physical activity and intellectual impulse is only now being realized and character building should be an important aim of the leaders of Physical Education. It is acknowledged that Physical Training encourages loyalty and develops self-confidence and courage. But these are not necessarily influences for good unless closely linked to high ideals. Sports and athletics create crises of intense nature which draw from the pupil those reactions which are his real self and which must be capitalized for his good by leaders in that field of activity if Physical Education is to attain its main objective of producing citizens in the real sense of the word.

Dr. Tait McKenzie, of the University of Pennsylvania, was the next speaker, this being his first public appearance as an LL.D. of McGill. This is the first time to his knowledge that such a degree has been conferred on (Continued on Page Two)

Tea Held in R. V. C. FOR ALUMNAE.

Folk Dances Form Interesting Item

Following hard upon the heels of the Alumnae Luncheon yesterday, came the tea given in honor of the Alumnae by the Undergraduate Society of the Royal Victoria College, which took place in the Assembly Hall at 4.30.

Numerous little tables were arranged around the sides of the room, leaving the centre portion free for the display of dances given by the students. The tea tables with their red and white decorations and delicate dainties, proved most inviting to the many graduates who quickly grouped themselves together, chiefly according to classes, and exchanged many jokes and news items of other "old girls," enjoying the while "the cup that cheers."

The guests were received by Miss Hurlbatt, Honorary President; Miss Birkett, President, and Lady Congleton, who is the granddaughter of Lord Strathcona, to whose beneficence R.V.C. students owe so much.

During tea the guests were entertained by an excellent programme of dances, both aesthetic and folk, given by the students of R.V.C. and of M. S. P. E.

The introduction of men-students into the dances proved a great innovation, and shows how much wholesome enjoyment is to be derived from mixed dancing of this good old style. All those present will vouch for the statement that the men themselves—in spite of their minority—seemed to enjoy the dancing as much as any one perhaps they realize what a lot they miss in being deprived of the splendid dancing classes which all co-eds enjoy so much during their three or four years as undergraduates.

The interpretative studies were splendidly executed and greatly appreciated; Miss Queenie Savage, in "Perfume," and Miss Winifred Birkett, in "Woodland Nymphs," showed exceptional interpretative ability and exceedingly careful finish. The dance which the audience seemed to enjoy most of all was the "Waltz Cotillion," in which men and girls took part, enjoying themselves as much as ever James McGill and his companions must have done when as "ladies and lads" they danced to the tune of the merry fiddlers, perhaps in a jolly home nestling at the foot of the same old mountain.

All the other dances were equally well done, and very charming to watch. There were many regrets from some of the older Donalds present that in their day college life (Continued on Page Two)

UNIVERSITY SERVICE AS A FAREWELL

Final Meeting of McGill Graduates

CHURCH SERVICE

Dr. Pidgeon, Artist '91 to Deliver the Address

On Sunday, as a fitting windup to the great Reunion, there will be held a University Church Service. After renewing old friendships and also making new McGill friends what could be more in harmony with the spirit of the different individuals than a church advice to bid Godspeed and Au Revoir. This must have been the thought of the committee when this meeting was planned and that it will be worthy of the occasion is assured. Dean Ritchie will conduct the service and Principal Currie will also take part.

The speaker will be Rev. Geo. Pidgeon who is a graduate of Old McGill Arts '91.

Dr. Pidgeon is at present minister of the Bloor St. Presbyterian Church, Toronto and is well known to the people of that city as well as elsewhere in Ontario and the Dominion. His church is one of the large churches of Toronto and unless things have changed lately one where it is necessary to go early to secure a seat. Varsity students are among those who attend his services and doubtless profit to a large extent through the discourse of this McGill graduate. All this goes to prove that Dr. Pidgeon is a man with a message who is well worth hearing and that he will have one is not to be questioned. Therefore it for McGill men and women to-morrow would be wise for the reader to at once take note of the time and place of this day, at 4.30 P. M., in St. James Methodist Church where convocation was held. This meeting is for McGill men and women especially. Graduates will obtain admission on presentation of the special ticket supplied and undergraduates by means of the grounds tickets.

To aid in making this a real university event the choir will be composed of seventy McGill men and women under the leadership of Mr. Harold Kee. Some of the music practiced by the choir for an earlier part of the Reunion program which unfortunately had to be postponed will be rendered. A former McGill Quartet of past fame is being reviewed by Mr. Murray Brooks and should aid greatly in the musical part of the service.

This is the last meeting of the Centennial Reunion and as such is one of the most important.

STADIUM FLAGPOLE DEDICATED FRIDAY

Lord Byng and Sir Arthur Currie Officiated

Yesterday afternoon a very impressive ceremony took place when Lord Byng, Sir Arthur Currie unveiled the memorial flagstaff at the Stadium in memory of the men of the 10th McGill Siege Battery who were killed in action.

The ceremony was performed after the hundred yard dash one of the first events on the programme. A short prayer preceded Sir Arthur's address. The Principal touched on the devotion of the men who had fallen doing tribute to their sacrifice which were not in vain. He closed with the "Roll of Honour" as perpetuated in the stone base.

The ceremony was closed with prayer and "The Last Post."

A touching scene was enacted afterward when the father of one of the boys whose name appears on the stone, approached the base to examine his boy's memorial. He touched each face of the stone reverently and ran his fingers over the face bearing the carved name. He asked whose names were to either side and underneath. With "He is in good company" the old man turned away and the bystanders noticed that he was blind.

DEATH IN ROCHESTER

Dr. Robert H. Mason, of 61 Webster avenue, Rochester, a McGill graduate and member of the staff of Park Avenue Hospital in that city, died yesterday at that institution of toxic poisoning following an operation performed a week ago.

Dr. Mason was a native of St. Hermas, Que., and in his educational career was foremost among his associates. Becoming active in medical circles in Rochester, he was appointed to the staff of the hospital.

MONTREAL, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1921.

THE GAME

McGill has to win the football game this afternoon. That is the spirit of the players and the sentiment of all the students and graduates present in the city. With hundreds of former students looking on at the contest the players will fight as they never fought before, urged on, as they will be, by the spirit of many former McGill teams.

Never before in the history of Canadian Intercollegiate football has a team been inspired by such a gathering as will be present this afternoon. The student rooters will be swelled in numbers by thousands of men and women who are living over again their college days.

The team has met a series of reverses during the past week but the setbacks only served to make them more stern in their determination to carry on in spite of the losses suffered. The return of players who had been absent from the practices has cheered the team to such an extent that they are filled with confidence concerning the result of the game.

It is possible that the team from Toronto University will win out, if the representatives of the two colleges are given equal chances; Toronto will have to be a far superior team to gain a victory. The Varsity players will no doubt play with the usual vigor for which they are noted but they will have a huge task to perform, for they will be playing not only the twelve men on the field but hundreds of former players who are not in uniform, but, nevertheless, fighting their ancient rivals as fiercely as if they themselves were carrying the ball.

The crowd which will attend the game will be greater in numbers than any ever seen at an athletic contest in Montreal. The preparations for the game exceed those of any of the games played at the stadium in former years. Everything about the contest would indicate that the game will be the greatest in the history of intercollegiate sport. The team should be the equal of anything seen in Canada. Give them Hell, McGill!

THE FINAL TOUCH

After the joys and hilarities of class re-unions, banquets and dances, we come to the end of the glorious week. But before we separate to go our many ways there is a service at St. James tomorrow, the last event of McGill's centennial, and a fitting conclusion to the University's celebrations.

This occasion enables everyone to meet on common ground. All of us could not receive honorary degrees at the memorable Convocation, nor attend certain functions, nor find places on the University's teams. Each one, however, from the most distinguished recipient of degrees to the newest undergraduate can meet on equality in the House of God.

McGill's Principal will take part in the service, and a McGill graduate, the Rev. Dr. G. C. Pidgeon, '91, will preach the sermon. A man who has tasted the horrors of war, and has deeply studied the needs of men.

The world of today, pregnant with doubt, with unrest, and with materialism, needs Christianity. Mankind will never fully recover from the effects of the war, and surge forward to new heights of greatness, unless there is true and heart-felt worship. This applies to the University as well as to the rest of the world, and our leaders have time and again stressed the imperative need of spiritual regeneration.

The second century of McGill's existence has dawned, the future lies in our hands. Nothing great will be achieved if we lose sight of the spirit which animated the courageous souls who made McGill.

Tomorrow's service unites us in a common bond, then we will scatter far and wide. Attend St. James. Honour God and McGill.

a leader of Physical Education and is regarded by Dr. McKenzie as significant of the changed attitude toward that branch of education. He spoke of the hard fight during the last 20 years to establish Physical Education on the same basis as other subjects and of the great need at McGill for accommodation for this work. Repeatedly since 1885 he had heard that McGill was just on the point of building a new gymnasium and he expects that if he should come tottering back years from now he would still be hailed with the same hopeful remark: "We are going to have a new gymnasium."

The war showed up the physical defects of the nation and changed the general attitude of the people. In U.S.A. 13 states have passed bills making Physical Education compulsory in the schools. People are now in a receptive mood and consequent, by a greater responsibility rests on the teacher of Physical Education who must be ready to take advantage of this opportunity.

After the addresses many of those present availed themselves of the opportunity of meeting personally both Mr. Somers and Dr. McKenzie.

McGILL WON IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Has 8 Out of 16 Points.

STILL TO PLAY.

Finals Take Place This Morning.

With prospects of continued fine weather, McGill's tennis showing yesterday augurs well for to-day's finals in the Intercollegiate Championships. The courts were well hardened, and had been put into excellent shape after the recent heavy rainfalls. The fight was a three-cornered one, McGill, Queens' and R.M.C. being the participants. 'Varsity was unable to send a team this year. The play commenced early in the morning, and continued until noon. The tournament was recommenced after lunch, and lasted until five o'clock. Owing to the University Sports, which drew the majority of students, there were few spectators.

Out of the sixteen possible points, eight were won by McGill, four by Queens', and none by R.M.C. The latter put up a hard fight, but their aggregation had to give way before superior play. With the exception of Ramsay, all the McGill players were new to Intercollegiate tennis. Ramsay played splendidly, displaying his customary speed and accuracy. Douglas and Brown are two fine players and Morris, who is in his freshman year, played a great game. Al, though Crocker and other members of last year's victorious team are absent this year, the new team measures up well to them. Dunlop, Cross and MacLacklan, of Queens, are speedy men.

Intercollegiate Singles.

First Round.

Gill (R.M.C.) vs. Douglas (McGill).—Douglas, 6-3; 6-3.

MacLacklan (Queens) vs. Hunter (R.M.C.).—MacLacklan, 5-7; 6-2; 6-0.

Morris (McGill) vs. Cross (Queens).—Morris, 6-0; 6-2.

McLeod (R.M.C.) vs. Brown (McGill).—Brown, 6-2; 6-0.

Poyser (Queens) vs. Dunlop (Queens).—Ramsay, 6-2; 6-1.

Second Round.

MacLacklan (Queens) vs. Morris (McGill).—MacLacklan, 1-6; 6-2; 7-5.

Brown (McGill) vs. Poyser (Queens).—Brown, 6-4; 6-3.

Intercollegiate Doubles.

First Round.

Hunter and Ferabee (R.M.C.) vs.

Ramsay and Douglas (McGill).—McGill, 6-1; 6-3.

Dunlop and Cross (Queens) vs. Gill and McLeod (R.M.C.).—Queens, 6-1, 7-5.

The final Doubles and semi-final singles will be played off this morning, and as many as possibly can are urged to turn out to see McGill clinch the Intercollegiate tennis championship.

EX-LONG-DISTANCE CHAMPION TO PREACH

Among those returning to McGill is the Rev. A. W. Lockhead, B. A., B. D., who graduated from McGill in Arts 1901, and from the Presbyterian College in 1904. Graduates of these years will remember the champion long distance runner who with the late Rev. J. D. Morron made such records on the McGill track. M. Lockhead will preach in the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul on Sunday evening, the church in which he was ordained 17 years ago, before proceeding as a missionary to Honan, China.

We sing to thee praise,
Great our affection, though feeble our lays,
Nestling so peaceful and calm neath the hill.
Fondly we love thee, our dear old McGill.

HAIL, HAIL, THE GANG'S ALL HERE.

She—"Did you pass all your work, so that you will be able to be here for next year's house party?"
True Cornelian—"Did better than that. I passed up all my work to train for this one."—Widow.

"This statement may take on a little more significance when stated thus: That an inter-collegiate athletic contests was unheard of for more than two hundred years after the founding of Harvard!"

"It was not until 180 that gymnasia were erected at Harvard, Yale and Amherst. The last named institution was the first university to introduce gymnasium work as a requisite for graduation."

"Inter-collegiate athletic contests made their advent in the form of boat racing the first such race being held August 3, 1852, between Harvard and Yale. The first inter-collegiate baseball game was played in 1864 between Harvard and Williams. These few facts are sufficient to show the comparatively recent acquisition of prestige in college sports."

He wore his college frat pin
Just southward of his heart,
And vowed that from that resting place
That pin should ne'er depart.

Years that passed still found him
Ever firm and standing part
Still wearing his college frat pin in honor of his frat.

One day two eyes confused him,
His high resolve took chase.
A soft voice coaxed that frat pin
From its old-abiding place.

They're now in a little bungalow,
With "Welcome" on the mat.
And the frat pin?—fastens baby clothes.
In honor of his frat.

An intercollegiate wireless service for the purpose of exchanging news is being considered by members of the journalism faculty at the University of Kansas. It is proposed that there be a controlling station, which would direct all activities. At a given hour each day each station would send news for several minutes at a period allotted them, and receive news the rest of the hour. The only serious drawback is the cost to colleges not already having the necessary apparatus.—The Daily Kansan.

FINE WEATHER.

McGill Pole Vault Record Broken by Gaboury

With the weather man smiling kindly upon the crowded bleachers, the University Track Meet went over with a bang yesterday afternoon at the Percival Molson Stadium. Everyone was in a genial mood, and showed the liveliest interest in the various events, which, by the way, were staged without a hitch. The outstanding feature of the afternoon was the pole vault, when Gaboury, of Arts '22, broke the record of 10 ft. 11 in., made by Cushing in 1915. When Gaboury soared over the cross bar at 11 ft. 1 in., the spectators rose to their feet and gave the old McGill yell.

Enthusiasm again ran high during the McGill-Varsity relay race. Lane, who ran the first 220 yard lap for McGill, took the lead at the start, passing the torch to Hay, who maintained the advance; Johnson, on the 440 lap, excited the admiration of the bleachers by striking a fast pace all around the track; Hamilton, running the last half mile in quick time, maintained the advantage gained and crossed the tape amid wild cheering by the McGill rooters.

The 100 yards dash was won by Johnson in 10.45 seconds.

An acid test of endurance was the mile run. Simpson maintained the lead from the start, except for a short stretch on his first lap, when Egerton forged ahead. Simpson retained the lead, but was closely followed during the first six rounds by Egerton. After that Simpson pulled away from the rest, and Wiggins moved up to second place. On the last round Wiggins made a final attempt to pass Simpson, but the latter crossed the tape well in the lead. The runners exhibited good form, and were comparatively fresh at the end of this grueling run. Legg made an easy victory in the one mile event. The half-mile and quarter-mile were won by Gammell and McNider respectively. Consiglio won the hurdle race by a narrow margin.

Foss made 5 ft. 6 in. in the running high jump, just 1 1/2 in. below the record made by Kennedy last year. Consiglio and Kennedy showed good form in the running broad jump, won by Consiglio.

The remaining events were the discus throwing, won by Foss; putting the 16 pound shot, also won by Foss; and throwing the 16 pound hammer, won by McLellan. An event which occasioned some jollity was the Old Boys' race of 100 yards, won by Hamilton, Science '84; 2nd, McIntosh, Med. '04; 3rd, Brekner, Sci. '10; while, bringing up the rear, was Eakins, Arts '13. Many an underdog in the stands was heard to exclaim on how those Old Boys could run.

The R. V. C. were out in force, and no doubt the presence of so many old fans helped to spur on the athletes to greater effort.

Just after the opening races were run, the field judge called for a suspension of all events, while the new flagpole was dedicated to the memory of McGill's fallen athletes, true sportsmen and men.

Following are the results of the various events:

RELAY RACE WILL BE AT HALF TIME

Varsity and McGill Will Again Test Strength

Another relay will be staged between teams from Varsity and McGill to-day between the halves of the football match. Yesterday McGill carried off the one mile medley relay and this afternoon the race consisting of four quarter miles will be equally interesting.

The McGill team will be practically the same with only one change being made with Varsity will have two new men on the track. The local runners have been making some remarkably good times in the trials during the past week and if stiff competition is given the time for the race will be remarkably good.

The popularity of relay racing is one of the notable things about the progress of track sport and the crowd out yesterday was very encouraging. To-day the teams will run before the biggest crowd that ever watched a race in Montreal and the runners should be stimulated to do their best.

McGILL JUNIORS DEFEATED LOYOLA

Gives Them Championship of Their Section.

Yesterday the McGill Junior Rugby Team won the championship of their section of the Q. R. F. W., by defeating Loyola on their own grounds. The score 18-15 indicates their closeness of the game in which they earned the right to play by winning from Macdonald College 15-0 last Wednesday. Loyola showed the results of careful coaching and put a far stronger team into the field than last week. McGill however showed that they were the better team.

1st Half.—McGill bucked down the field and Hutchison went over a touch which was not converted. Shortly after this McConnell kicked to the dead line for one point. Loyola came back and Brennan went over for a touch. McGill retaliated right back with another touch when Cowan fell on a fumbled ball behind Loyola's line. Brennan scores a try for Loyola just before half time. Half time score McGill 11 Loyola 10.

2nd Half.—McConnell kicked twice to the dead line for McGill and Hutchison went over for his second try. Both teams were playing good football with McGill having slightly the advantage. Just before the whistle Brennan scored his third try for Loyola which was not converted, leaving the score: McGill 18, Loyola 15.

For McGill, Hutchison, Adams and Davies were the outstanding stars. Brennan who scored all of Loyola's points and Altimas who did some fine open field running were the best for Loyola.

Harvard will publish marks in future: Students will be graded in six groups: Highest distinction, high distinction, and distinction; High pass, pass, and low pass. Flat failures will be kept for the private information of the student and his family.

1. Don't stay for class meetings.
2. If you do stay, leave early and make all the noise you can.
3. Never accept an office. It is easier to criticize others than to do things yourself.
4. Nevertheless, get "sore" if you are not appointed on a committee, but if you are, do not attend meetings.
5. If asked by the president to give your opinion on some matter, tell him you have nothing to say. After the meeting let everyone know how things ought to be done.
6. Do nothing more than is necessary, but when other members selfishly use their ability to help matters along, howl that the class is run by a clique.
7. Don't bother about the class. Let Mike do it.
8. When the class yell is being given never help out and after it is over, remark to your friends how rotten it sounded.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE HELD AT NEW MED.

One of the notable events of the reunion was the dance at the New Medical building, last night. Fully two thousand five hundred guests attended, and the receiving committee, which was composed of Principal and Lady A. W. Currie, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Birks, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ross, was kept busy receiving up till 10 o'clock.

The procession of guests which began on the first floor, wended its way up the stairs to the Pathological Museum, around the pit to the right, when they were met by the committee, thence they wended their way to the ball room, which was situated in the Assembly Hall, on the first floor.

The procession, when viewed from the top of pit, in the Museum of Anatomy was a wonderful spectacle. The brilliancy of the light, the whiteness of the tele and the combination and mixture of the different hues of evening dresses, of the palms and ferns with which the museum was decorated, combined with the strains of music which floated serenely up from Brown's Hidden, five piece orchestra made it an event to be remembered.

The ball room, decorated with palms and ferns, was taxed to its fullest capacity and many were unable, to even approach it; and, as a result, the halls were utilized. Leblain's orchestra supplied the music for the dancing in the ball room and between these two orchestras enough music was supplied to ensure good dancing. The Halls were so crowded that it was with great difficulty that one was able to advance.

To prevent congestion at certain points the 14th, 20th and 53rd Vickers and McGill troops of Boy Scout turned out in full numbers and they with their scout masters or leaders are to be complimented on the manner with which they kept the stair cases immune from crowding.

Refreshments were served during the evening on the third floor and the tables which were laden with dainties, that appealed to the hungry dancer and go to make such an affair a success, stretched from one end of the hall to the other.

It could be plainly seen who were the old grads in Medicine, for they gathered in groups about the different cases of specimens in the Museum of Pathology and Anatomy and told of similar cases with which they had met.

The faculty room, on the first floor, was used as a lounge room and like the others was well filled. As one entered the New Medical building the lines of cars on both sides of University Street from Pine Ave to Milton was enough to remind him that it was no small affair that was in progress and despite the crowds, everyone, thoroughly enjoyed themselves and it was generally admitted that the dance was one, if not the one, outstanding events of the reunion.

CARROLL.

The Junior Class at Yale showed its originality last week when it adopted the plan of having motion pictures of class activities taken for use at reunions. The main feature of the plan calls for individual pictures of every man in the class. Class teams, organizations and committees will also be photographed as will the various athletes in the class. Such a vivid reproduction of college life is highly practical and would be a source of much pleasure to those graduates who will have been away from the college for some years. College Topics.

The ostrich reminds us of some freshmen we know, it has a wonderful stomach, but not much of a head. Bald headed McElroy in Millers: "My cocca's cold."

"How come?"
"She pays seventeen dollars for hose and displays sixteen dollars ninety-five cents worth of them."

One thing that worries us is, who is going to wash the dishes in the future, for all these helpless princesses that mothers are raising these days.

A VERY HAPPY AND FESTIVE TIME

Nearly as old as McGill University itself, we extend all store courtesies to visiting friends, and invite graduates of bygone days to renew our acquaintance.

MCGILL AND TORONTO MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Stadium Scene of McGill's First Conflict with Toronto Varsity This Season — Much Importance Attached to Game — Half Time Relay Race and Parade of Former Athletes.

As a climax to a week crowded with events of importance the football game this afternoon at the Stadium gives every promise of being a memorable occasion fully worthy of the Centennial Union. The abundance of enthusiasm has already been evidenced both by our visiting Graduates and the Student Body of the University, together with the keen rivalry of the two opposing teams, is only one of many indications that the game will be one of the most noteworthy events that has ever taken place at McGill.

A further interest has been added to the game by reason of the defeat suffered by Toronto Varsity at the hands of Queens last Saturday. This defeat in itself is the first time that Queens has beaten Varsity since 1909. This serves to show that The Kingston University is the possessor of a formidable team. An added interest of this nature, necessarily increases the importance of a win which McGill this afternoon and it is therefore essential that the team, which in every way prepared for the contest, should be accorded every support from the University.

As far as the Rooters are concerned arrangements are completed and are announced in another part of this issue. It cannot be realized by anyone but the team, perhaps, the great importance of the Rooters. This fact is worthy of endless repetition, and in this regard the game is in the hands of the Student body. It would be a lamentable fact, should they fail in their duty to-day. If the Rooters live up to the expectations of their leader, "Teedles" Thompson, the squad will lack no support in this respect, and the players are thoroughly confident that such will be the case.

As an added feature there will be a relay race between Varsity and McGill at half time, so that from the time that the whistle blows at two-thirty this afternoon there will not be a minute during which the honour of Canada's two great Universities is not being contested. At the same time there will be a parade of all men who have won an "M" at any sport, together with the Captains of previous Rugby teams. At the close of the parade these men will be photographed, the parade in itself should be a very impressive affair, with rather an historic interest.

"SHAG"

Frank Shaughnessy the well known McGill Rugby coach might almost be said to be part and parcel of old McGill, much as he is the brains of the Varsity team. That institution which has done so much for the University, upheld her honour on many a hard fought field and has done much to foster and maintain that college spirit for which old McGill is so famous.

The popular "Shag" came to join McGill in 1912 and has since proved himself to be perhaps the most efficient Rugby coach that could be desired. He has backed by McGill through thick and thin is inspiring a confidence which has led the teams through many a hole in which has made the University famous in the history of Canadian Inter-collegiate Rugby.

It may be said without exaggeration that "Shag" has become a campus idol and as is the case today every man who has felt for years past that if McGill has a chance to be victorious, "Shag" will make certain of that chance. The spectacular honour of victory earned and well earned by a hard working squad. It is an undeniable fact that the men of this squad are the best qualified to attribute credit where it is due and there never has been and never will be a member of the squad that has not been loud in his praises of their efficient coach.

Previous to coming to McGill Shaughnessy acted as coach to the Football and Hockey teams at Notre-Dame University.

"BOO" ANDERSON

B. Anderson needs no introduction to McGill men. As "Boo", the Captain of the team and star half and quarter-back is perhaps one of the best known men on the college. This is Boo's first year as Captain and judging by his previous performances he should make a very efficient leader.

Prep. School: Lower Canada College. Came to McGill in 1919. Faculty: Science, Second Year. Anderson has played Senior Football since he entered the University. Weight: 160 Pounds.

LITTLE L. P.

"Bones" Little entered McGill in 1919. He has played senior Basketball for two years. In his first year he played Rugby with the Intermediates and last year fought the Senior team and has since made good.

Prep. School: Ottawa Collegiate. Came to McGill in 1919. Faculty: Medicine, Third Year. Weight: 132 Pounds.

Little is a very steady player at Flying Wing.

NORMAN LIVSHIN

Ever since coming to McGill in 1918 Livshin has been a valued player on the Senior squad. Previous to that Livshin made a name for himself at Syracuse University and it is noteworthy that this year he will fight against his old Alma Mater when Syracuse comes up to play McGill next month. Livshin is playing this year as a snaphack.

Faculty: Medicine, Fifth Year. Weight: 190 Pounds.

COPE, E. S.

Selby Cope will be almost a stranger to the team this year as last season he was a victim of hard luck and was unable to play after being knocked out at the Queen's game early in the season. Fortunately for McGill he is back on the game this year and is doing well as a line plunger.

Prep. School: Westmount High. Came to McGill in 1919. Faculty: Science, Third Year. Weight: 162 Pounds.

This will be Cope's third year as a Rugby player at McGill.

AMARON, E. C.

Amaron is a middle wing of much promise. This is his first year on the Senior squad but he has played considerable Rugby in the Interfaculty games, starting for Arts on several occasions. He played Rugby for Stanstead, his prep. school and has been playing Basketball since entering college. One year with the Intermediate and one year with the Senior Team.

Prep. School: Stanstead. Came to McGill in 1919. Faculty: Arts, Third Year. Weight: 166 Pounds.

RUTHERFORD, A. S.

Rutherford has played with the Senior team for one year and has done good work. He is playing Wing this year and although not very heavy his playing is effective.

Prep. School: Westmount High. Came to McGill in 1920 from R. M. C. Faculty: Science, Fourth Year. Civil. Weight: 137 Pounds.

CRAIN, G. E.

"Eddie" Crain will make his first appearance this year on the Senior Line-up. He is playing Outside Wing. Crain has had previous experience as Captain of the Junior Team and is by no means new to the game.

Prep. School: Ottawa Collegiate. Came to McGill from R. M. C., in 1919. Faculty: Science, Third Year. Crain also did good work last year on the Senior Basketball Team. Weight: 145 Pounds.

PHILPOTT, N. W.

Has played Senior Rugby for one year. He is playing Half-back this year. Prep. School: Hamilton Collegiate. Came to McGill in 1919. Faculty: Medicine, Second Year. Weight: 165 Pounds.

FITZGERALD, R. R.

Has played Football at McGill for the last year. Middle Wing. Prep. School: Calgary Collegiate. Came here in 1915. Faculty: Arts and Medicine. Weight: 180 Pounds.

ARMSTRONG

Outside Wing. Prep. School: Montreal High. Entered McGill in 1919. Faculty: Science, Third Year. Weight: 150 Pounds.

STEARNS.

Prep. School: B. C. S., and L. C. C. Was in Arts '24 and now in Commerce '24.

BAILEY

Plays Outside Wing. Prep. School: Lower Canada College. Came to McGill in 1919. Faculty: Science, Second Year. Weight: 156 Pounds.

LAZIER

Inside Wing. Prep. School: Trinity College School. Faculty: Commerce, Third Year.

J. G. NOTMAN.

Jefi Notman is the biggest man on the team, weighing two hundred and twenty-one Pounds. His weight is a big factor to the team and last year it proved effective on several occasions. He is playing Inside Wing this year.

Prep. School: Lower Canada College. Faculty: Science, Fourth Year.

PARSONS, F. L.

"Les" has been a valuable man on the Senior Squad for two years. He is playing Inside Wing and is one of the heavier members of team.

Prep. School: Montreal High. Faculty: Science, Third Year. Weight: 180 Pounds.

AMBRIDGE, D. W.

LINE UPS OF TEAMS FOR TODAY'S GAME

Great Excitement Evident Everywhere.

AT 2.30

Teams Are Very Evenly Matched.

Football crazed students rushing around the campus talking wildly of the game today. Old graduates are as enthusiastic as the freshest freshman in discussing the chances of McGill defeating Varsity in the big contest. Everything else is neglected in the one engrossing topic of McGill and Varsity.

The long line of rooters waiting for their tickets was the first real indication of the large amount of students who would be on hand under the leadership of "Teedles" Thompson and the sale of the precious pasteboards this morning will augment their numbers by many hundreds more.

The huge concrete stand on the north side of the stadium is already completely sold out and the new stand on the south side of the gridiron is expected to be disposed of shortly after the sale of general admission tickets opens at noon today.

The Varsity team arrived in town last night brimful of confidence and they expect to make the Red and White players bow down before their prowess this afternoon. However, Shaughnessy and his squad of fighting gridders are saying little but their looks would indicate they are ready to meet any play made by the team from the Queen city and give them back a few unexpected plays in return.

Both of the teams have been trained and coached by experts and both of them lack nothing to prevent them from showing their best in the big contest. The weather promise to be fair for the contest, the field in perfect condition for a fast game and everything points to ideal conditions for the contest.

The game starts at 2.30 o'clock and should be concluded without delays unless some untoward incident causes a hitch in the proceedings. Both of the teams are trained to the point where they should be able to stand a hard game without showing ill effects so that nothing remains to be done but blow the whistle and start the battle.

The probable teams:-

A Message from Sir Arthur Currie

"McGill aims to be a great seat of learning, to develop in its students a love of study and research, to help them understand and appreciate the lessons of history, to master the mysteries of Nature, and to obtain a proper conception of their duties and responsibilities as citizens while recognizing at the same time the spirit and the needs of the times. She will maintain the highest intellectual traditions of our race and will inculcate the truest moral standards. She seeks the truth, and unselfishly desires to serve."

Noble words, indeed, from one who served his King and his Country so valiantly! And all the world believes that Sir Arthur will give of his best to carry on the best traditions of Old McGill.

So it is with those who are continuing the life work of Lewis Edson Waterman.

The best traditions of quality and workmanship go into every one of the millions of Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pens manufactured in the Waterman factories.

While there are many differences in size, shape and ornamentation, there is no difference in the easy writing, efficiency and dependability of the Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen—be the price $2.50 or $250.00.

ALUMNI OF R.V.C. ARE ENTERTAINED

Luncheon Enjoyed by Grads.
350 ATTENDED.

Committee in Charge Are to be Congratulated.

The Alumnae Luncheon held yesterday in the Assembly Hall of the Royal Victoria College was a huge success. About 350 members of the Alumnae Society were present. The Assembly hall was well filled with small tables for two, four and six; and the guests grouped themselves as they wished; the hall hummed with voices and laughter as old friends talked over their happy college days. The lunch was served to the tables by the undergraduates, who proved to be charming and very efficient waitresses.

Feasting done, Mrs. Fry, the president of the Alumnae Society, addressed a few words of welcome to all present. Mrs. Fry regretted that owing to shortness of time they could not call on many of the graduates whom they would be glad to hear speak. She then called on Lady Drummond, one of the honorary graduates, who received her LL.D. on Thursday afternoon. Lady Drummond spoke of the dream of her youth, which has now come true, that the doors of McGill might one day be open to women, and enlarged upon the heritage of this generation, born to so many opportunities.

Miss Caroline Hazard, formerly of Wellesley College, conveyed the greetings from the sister college.

When Mme. Peuch, formerly Mlle. Milhau, for many years a devoted member on the staff of the Department of Moderns at McGill, rose to speak, she was enthusiastically received. Mme. Peuch spoke feelingly on the need of understanding and goodwill between the two races.

Following Mme. Peuch's address, Miss Agnes Warner, one of the most distinguished of the Donalda graduates, gave some account of her work as a military nurse under the French Government during the whole of the war. Miss Warner gave a few very vivid glimpses of the heroism and sacrifice of the many simple souls whose acts of bravery and patience are among the untold golden deeds of humans.

Mrs. Pitcher followed Miss Warner with a brief speech. The President then closed the festivity, and the members assembled outside for the group picture.

The whole affair ran smoothly from start to finish; seldom have wheels run so well, the reason for the success is due chiefly to their having been thoroughly oiled before hand by the two able conveners, Mrs. Fry and Mrs. C. J. MacMillan, and their ever-willing committee.

When America's fire losses are compared with those of European countries the contrast is not at all flattering to the United States. No late foreign statistics are available, but a comparison on the basis of the old figures is still a fair one. In 1913 per capita fire loss in the United States was $2.10 as against 49 cents in France, 33 cents in England, 28 cents in Germany, 25 cents in Austria, 25 cents in Italy, 15 cents in Switzerland, and only 11 cents in Holland. This indicates that we burn up our property nearly 20 times as rapidly as the people of Holland and more than four times as rapidly as the French.

The fundamental reason for this contrast is in the matter of temperament. Europeans are naturally more careful than Americans, and in many of the Continental countries fire is made an individual liability and those who are responsible for such destruction must answer to the authorities.

Under the Code Napoleon, which prevails in France and Belgium, landlord and tenant are alike responsible for fire. In France, if a fire starts in any premises through gross carelessness or culpable fault, the offender must make good all damage done to neighboring property by the fire, but the burden of proof lies with the neighbors making claims.

In the United States such a statute would seem too drastic yet, within recent years a number of cities have enacted ordinances providing for personal liability for fire. This is true of New York City; Newark, N.J.; Cincinnati and Cleveland, Ohio; Portland, Ore.; and Austin, Tex. Pennsylvania has a state law of this kind and certain Provinces of Canada have also adopted such acts. These laws may be considered an indication of growing realization that fire is a matter of personal responsibility and that its ramifications affect every citizen, either directly or indirectly.

Cousin Nell: "Suppose your chick should lay an egg, would you give it to me, Johnny?"

Johnny: "No, I'd sell it to a museum; Ah, at last I am among the swells, garbled the frosh as he bubbled his way to the lake bottom.—U. of N. Sargbrush.

AN ERROR
A most unfortunate error occurred in a recent edition of the "Daily" when it was stated that the cost of the Queen's University Stadium had been defrayed, in part, by friends of Mr. James Richardson, son, whereas Mr. Richardson stood the entire expenses. The management of the "Daily" takes this opportunity to express regret for the mistake, and to rectify the misunderstanding.

RUGBYISTS HELD STIFF PRACTICE

Will Play Against M.A.A. and Varsity Teams.

The two McGill English Rugby teams had a good work-out on the Old Campus yesterday morning. Prof. Matheson refereed and gave the men some much needed advice.

After the practice a short meeting was held and John ("Dutch") Helmcken was elected to captain this year's first team.

The next game will be played on Monday next at the M. A. A. grounds when the Red & White will again clash with the Montreal fifteen.

On Saturday next McGill expects to play "Varsity in Toronto. The game is all arranged and all that is still necessary in Varsity's agreement to play a return game here on October 29th.

Captain Helmcken will choose Monday's team from the following:

Bradshaw, Manson, Beardsley, Holway, Marpole, McDougall, J. McIntosh, C. A. McIntosh, Peacock, Day, McLean, Roome, Budden, Mitchell, Whitmore, Lochead, Brown, Robertson, Rankin, Branch, Blumell, Kemp, Patterson.

The above men will turn out on the Old Campus to-day at 10.30 a.m. for a light work-out preparatory to Monday's game.

Dr. Harvey will be in his office at Molson's Hall at 9.45 A. M., to-day to examine those who have not yet had their physical examination.

MCGILL MAN APPOINTED MANAGER

John H. Packard, formerly assistant manager of the United States branch of the London Assurance Corporation, has been appointed United States manager of the company, according to an announcement made last week by James Clunes, London fire manager of the corporation, who is at present in this country. The announcement of Mr. Packard's appointment has been looked forward to with interest by his many friends for some time, since following the death of former United States Manager Charles Lyman Case, June 25 of this year it was generally understood that the appointment would be tendered to Mr. Packard.

Mr. Packard, who was formerly president of the American Fire Insurance Co., of Philadelphia was born in the Quaker City May 9, 1865. He received his education in the Episcopal Academy of that city and at the University of Pennsylvania. His business career was begun as an errand boy and clerk in the insurance agency of Thomas C. Foster, in Philadelphia, in 1884, and later in the same year he entered the employ of the American Fire as general clerk. He was appointed city inspector in 1886 and did special agency work for the company in Delaware.

In 1895 he was appointed Metropolitan district surveyor, with headquarters in New York for the London Assurance Corporation, and was appointed manager for Philadelphia and the suburban district of the Sun Insurance office and the London Assurance in 1896. He was assistant secretary of the Philadelphia Fire Underwriters' Association from 1897

Several Engrossing Addresses Delivered to Presbyterians

Once more the dwellers around the campus are to be rudely awakened from their morning slumbers by the loud wails, yells and the hollow thud of the Kicked football.

The initial practice of the P. C. Team was held Friday morning at seven o'clock. Much enthusiasm was shown last year and by all appearances as much interest is to be taken in Inter-Theological College Soccer.

At 1.15 P. M., Friday, a luncheon was served in the Morrice Hall for graduates and Undergraduates of the Presbyterian College.

About one hundred and fifty attended. Principal Smythe spoke of the advantages of the Co-operating Theological Colleges. Wm R. Birks gave an address on "The Soccer of the Co-operating Theological Colleges."

After the evening meal on Friday evening, Dr. G. C. Pidgeon of Toronto gave a short but very instructive talk to the students. He emphasized the importance of every man making the most of the opportunities presented to him by the Religious Education Department now existing in the Theological Colleges. This department offers wide opportunity to young men to-day and is going to play a large part in church work.

It was indeed fortunate that the students were able to benefit by the presence of Dr. Pidgeon. He is to address the Centennial church service at St. James Methodist church on Sunday afternoon October 16, at 4.30. Dr. Pidgeon is a graduate of McGill in Arts '91.

The popularity of the great college sport is going with the passing of every season. The construction of gigantic stadiums and bowls in every section of the country, primarily in the interest of football, is significant of the climbing enthusiasm which is built about the great game. to 1902, when he was elected vice president and secretary of the American Fire. In 1905 he was elected president of the company to succeed Thomas H. Montgomery, but resigned later the same year, following a change in the stock control of the company, and was appointed agency secretary of the London Assurance Corporation Sept. 5, 1907, and on Feb. 1, 1920 assistant manager.

The London Assurance Corporation was founded in 1720 and this year is celebrating its 200th anniversary with the slogan "Tested by the Fires of Two Centuries." The company was admitted to the United States in 1872 and its last annual statement showed assets in this country of $7,502,641, and a net surplus here of $2,612,921. Its losses paid in the United States since being admitted have been in excess of $45,000,000.

TRACK TEAM IS SELECTED AFTER MEET

Announcement Made After Sports Yesterday.

CHANCES GOOD.

Showing Made Yesterday Gives Encouragement for Intercollegiate Event.

The team to represent McGill in the intercollegiate track meet to be held at Kingston next week was announced after the University sports yesterday. The majority of the members of the team are athletes who have already made their name on the field and track and the numbers have been augmented by newcomers from the preparatory schools who have shown themselves capable of carrying on beside the more experienced runners.

A notable feature about the team this year is the rapid strides made by several of the runners who were listed as second string men last year. Many of those who were not able to catch a place on the team last fall have improved to such an extent that they are considered some of the most valuable men on the squad.

The team appears to be as strong or stronger than the aggregations which won the intercollegiate championships for the past two years. Of course nothing can be foretold about the probable results of the meet until the strength of the other teams is known but McGill's chances are far from being poor.

AT THE THEATRES

THE ORPHEUM.

The story told in Will Carleton's famous poem is known to everybody on the North American continent. Its lesson and its appeal are as potent in Canada as anywhere else, and the fascination of its romance, with recurring pathos, is as strong. "Over the Hill, to the Poorhouse" tells the tale of a mother who devoted all her early life, all her young womanhood, all her energy and all her devotion to the bringing up of a numerous family upon very limited means. She scraped and stinted and sacrificed in order that all her boys and girls might be started on the battle of life with a good equipment of teaching and of instruction. She left nothing undone, omitted no sacrifice, in order to help them.

Later in life, when they had grown up and were making their own way in the world, she sought with them that home which she had a right to expect. But one after the other proved faithless to her, and in the end, in the absence of the son upon whom she could have counted without the slightest doubt, the lady was driven to take refuge in the poorhouse.

At retribution came swiftly to the grateful ones. The son whose devotion cheered her returned, swiftly found the real state of affairs, took summary action and rescued his mother from the degradation of charity and gave her a happy home in which to spend her remaining years.

is a tale replete with the most heart-touching, rich in comedy and in pathos and in that profoundly intimate appeal that goes to the root of all human emotions, stirs the heart, moves men to tears, and thrills one with tenderness.

The Orpheum Players are well qualified to give to this play an interpretation which will drive home its beauty and its appeal to the heart.

THE PRINCESS.

The bill to be presented at the Princess Theatre next week, commencing tomorrow (Sunday) matinee is in more than one way attractive. The headline attraction will be the Watson Sisters, better known as "Those Two Clever Girls", who will present their new offering entitled, "Horsepitality" described as a rare combination of songs, dance and comedy. They have recently been playing in musical comedy where they have met with tremendous success and they know their business to perfection, their songs are sung just in the right manner and their points and dialogue is unfailingly made without effort and their present offering is a refined and high class singing and talking skit.

Sallicie Fisher, will be seen in a one-act playlet called, "The Choir Rehearsal" which is a delightful satire on the New England prudences and country life in a most amusing form. Miss Fisher is assured of a hearty welcome here for her work is well known to comic opera enthusiasts. The cast in support of Miss Fisher has been specially selected.

Jim and Betty Morgan, two well-known musicians and composers, joint authors of "Dont Bite the Hand that is Feeding You" and "Cleopatra Had a Band" will appear in a revue of their own compositions in which they include considerable comedy and they have been well reported along the circuit. Jack McLallen and May Carson, a team of clever comedians, who give a very amusing turn which they call, "Whoa Sarah" in which they have covered a new method of arousing risibilities of an audience.

The Caits Brothers, billed as "The Four Made Boys" will be seen in a dancing act. They display wonderful ability as dancers, their is a neatness and certainty in their touch and their singing is not only technical perfection

Hairnets, hairpins, and finger nails featured in the very realistic combat in one of the university classrooms. The women of the upper classes had ordered the Freshman girls to wear their hair down their backs without any unnecessary ornamentation but the fearless Freshies paid no attention to the order. AMBASSADOR AT CANADIAN CLUB TO-DAY

Over 2,000 Heard Geddes.

TRIBUTE TO MCGILL.

Former Principal Spoke on Present-Day Needs.

Nearly two thousands members and guests of the Canadian Club greeted His Excellency Auckland C. Geddes, at a record-breaking meeting of the club held yesterday noon at the Windsor Hotel. Col. Allan A. Magee, D. S. O., the president, was in the chair, and among the McGill leaders present were: Chancellor E. W. Beatty Dr. A. S. Eve, Professor P. E. Nobbs, and Prof. E. Brown Premier Taschereau, Principal R. Bruce Taylor of Queen's, Sir Robert Falconer of University of Toronto, Principal H. M. Tory of Alberta University, Dr. J. R. Angell, Principal of Yale were also at the head table.

Sir Auckland was received with ringing cheers, for which he expressed appreciation. The Ambassador said that lack of knowledge, and inability to govern which characterized the people who had won for themselves the right of government, was the original source of the international discord and the breakdown of international diplomacy, which was held responsible for the great war and all the calamities following in its train.

He declared that official and personal relations between Great Britain and the United States were good and cordial. The former Professor of Anatomy and Principal-Elect congratulated McGill on her centenary and great achievements, and also Montreal for being the home of such an institution. "I wish to speak to-day," said Sir Auckland, however, about some large matter of international concern affecting the whole world. I know many of you believe that the study of Greek is rather a pedantic and foolish thing. I disagree with you. But that does not matter in the least if you hold that point of view.

"Nearly two and a half millenniums ago, and that is getting to be a long time now, there was a profoundly important happening in Athens.

"The life, the thought of Plato was injected into the human mind. And that thought, put shortly, was this: 'Man, take hold of your own lives, you are not the sport of the Gods, you can, if you will, control your own destinies.

"And that followed upon the mockery, the questioning, which all the men that held office had been subject to by many Greek minds. Following Plato came Aristotle, and he qualified the thought of Plato. He said in effect to the world; 'yes, take hold of your own lives, but first know what life is. Study, learn, acquire knowledge, and it may be you will get understanding.

"Once again, as in these far distant days, a great questioning has seized upon human minds. The war stirred up the thought that had perhaps got sluggish, and we are perhaps beginning to question and to say, 'is it so, is what we have believed a fact?'

"And once again, just as with Plato, the thought has come strongly into the human mind, 'take hold of your fate, take hold of your destiny, control it, you are not the sport of the Gods as you saw, so shall you reap, and the mind of man is now once more keenly appreciative of that platonic point of view. And once again the old voices come ringing down through the ages, 'Yes, no more of life before you attempt to control it, study, learn, get knowledge, and it may be you will get understanding.

"Without knowledge, without understanding in the minds of great masses of people, it is impossible, as I see it, for democracies to get a peaceful and a stable world.

"This knowledge and understanding," concluded the speaker, "is the guardian of civilization. The universities create knowledge, they preserve it and disseminate it, and without knowledge there can be no understanding and the people who are destined to govern will perish."

How girls can do these dreadful things, And thusly dissipate, I cannot see; but then, you know, I've never had a Date.

It is the custom at Newcomb College for the Seniors to present their Dean with some kind of a present just before graduation. This time they presented Dean Pierce Butler with an airplane ride over New Orleans. The ride probably made Dean Butler the "happiest" college dean in America on Sunday one week ago.

—Tulane Hullabaloo.

Edith was light-hearted and merry over everything. Nothing appealed to her seriously. So one day her mother decided to invite a very serious young parson to dinner, and he was placed next to the light-hearted girl. Everything went well until she asked him:

"You speak of everyone having a mission. What is yours?"

"My mission," said the parson, "is to save young men."

"Good!" replied the girl, "I'm so glad to meet you. I wish you would save one for me."

GOODWIN'S A Montreal Public Institution

—which visitors should not fail to place upon their itinerary.

The proud and unique position occupied by Goodwin's Limited is due to a business ideal — the endeavor to provide the service in the merchandise.

Now the service in the merchandise is the simplest thing in the world to explain.

It is merely that characteristic of an article which makes it desired — whether that characteristic be color, shape, substance, size or price.

Having that ideal ever in view, it will be quite readily understood that we buy exactly what our customers require us to sell to them; the merchandise, of course, but, primarily, the service which that merchandise achieves.

This can be done only by an organization with enormous facilities for buying, and we stretch our arms to the four corners of the globe for our customers' needs.

You can always expect at Goodwin's, what you have a right to expect — the right goods at the right time at the right price.

Many old friends are back again in the City to-day. We welcome them. They must note many progressive changes in our Store.

Many new friends are in the City, and we welcome them, also.

May we suggest that one of your last hours in Montreal be spent in Goodwin's? You will find much to interest and profit you
